CONFIDENTIAL

20th March 2019

To Whom it may concern,

I do not wish to reveal my identity or my personal details for my own protection and safety and would appreciate that all personal details within this cover letter remain confidential, as the nature of what I have submitted is of a controversial nature and could pose a risk to my own safety from certain individuals who are involved or disagree.

I am an educated woman who holds a degree in Business Management, Business Administration and have a publishing contract with a publisher in London, whom will be releasing my first book this year.

My interests include Psychology, Philosophy, Medical Science and Human behaviour.

I am submitting this article that I have written as I wish to express my views and hopefully have it published in order to deliver a different perspective to the public, which may change their perspective and take a different view upon what I feel is a very important issue within our society and has remained unaddressed in it 's entirety.

My article addresses all individuals involved which include society, the worker and the client, and addresses the Psychological behaviours and impact it imposes upon these individuals and society.

I give you permission to publish the following statements :

Each client, demand of this nature contributes to the illegal activity of human trafficking, child abduction for human trafficking, drugs, enslavement and violence, which in turn creates a part of society that is unrespected and develops extensive Psychological problems within these individuals who then can not contribute to society on an educated level.

I wish to make the worker, client and society that contributes to this demand aware and hopefully change their view, perspective from a Psychological level and decrease this demand, which in turn will decrease the illegal activity of this entrapment and trade and point them towards taking a different path that could not only save a persons life but enhance the life of those people who use these services and improve their quality of life and their own personal relationships and society as a whole.

The way we treat another contributes to the Psychological development, behaviour, conduct and how we they treat themselves, which then distributes to many individuals that come into contact with that person, which then develops into a cycle, a chain of events that effects us all.

Do we as a society stand in fear and silence or do we make a stand and face these real issues and make a change anonymously by choosing not to contribute to this practice and trade and take another path.

Decrease the Demand - Decrease the Crime

Weather or not the act itself is done with respectably it is still not a respectable act, as the person, the worker is not viewed as anything more than a sexual object to be used and discarded for the clients own self gratification.

Many men claim and state that it is disrespectful to ejaculate upon their partners face or other parts of the body, but freely perform this act upon the sex worker, and or take photographs of the act. How can they claim or state that the act of the sexual engagement with the sex worker was done respectably or with respect ?
Would they do this to their partner?

Guide people towards other forms of sexual gratification such as masturbation, swingers clubs or dating sites such as AMM (Adult Match Maker), if they wish to engage in and explore other alternative sexual adventures with willing participants.

Guide them towards seeking counselling for any other Psychological issues or emotional needs that may need to be addressed or present.

Encourage them to be honest with their partners and themselves and enrich their own personal relationships and their own quality of life by addressing the real underlining issues of their behaviour or needs.

If we can change the minds of one person in a hundred that ' s one step forward in decreasing this demand and a step closer to eradicating this disgraceful crime against the under privileged and unfortunate, that will have an effect on future generations and increase the number of people who will not contribute to this illegal activity and trade.

Kind Regards

A Psychological View of Prostitution - The Sex Industry

In a world full of technology and knowledge have we really evolved into an educated society or have we forgotten an underlining issue of human behaviour that we have not addressed in it 's entirety.

Prostitution, the sex trade, is it really a profession or merely a means to an end, a quick solution for the under privileged and the unfortunate.

As a society we condemn the act of a woman who has one night stands with strangers or whom have many sexual partners and view it as unacceptable behaviour of which we frown upon and then label that woman as unrespectable. Then why are we not addressing the same issues and deeming this profession as unacceptable behaviour or labelling the people that use their services.

Does the person who use these services then fall into the same category as the sex worker themselves if they are able to have sex with a stranger who has just had sex with ten different strangers moments before them. Are they then viewed as unrespectable people as well ?

Are we really ignoring the underlining factors or issues that make a person turn to a complete stranger who has no choice other than to submit to their sexual whims, fantasies or fetishes and accepting that it is okay to lie to their partners or lie to themselves by ignoring that there may be a deep seated psychological reason for their deceit and what they seek within the hands of a stranger.

Do they then consider their desires, fantasies or fetishes as normal or acceptable if they have to hide it and perform the act in secrecy, or are they unable to face the true facts that they may have a Psychological problem or emotional need that needs to be addressed by a medical professional.

I then pose the question - Do these people, individuals who use these services suffer from psychological problems, needs or disorders that need to be addressed?

Narcissism, lack of respect for others, sexual dysfunction, selfishness, unfulfilled emotional needs, loneliness, lack of respect for themselves, altered perception, sense of power over another or self indulgence. Do they require Psychological counselling ?

Are they ashamed to reveal or face the truth of their own behaviour or some underlining cause that they are not willing or choose not to address?

Have they no conscience or respect or pride within themselves to not carry a sense of responsibility to inflict this upon another person? Is this act of defiling another person for their own self gratification, a thrill, a sense of power or a selfish act of their own self satisfaction?

Do they have an altered perception that the sex worker, a person, this stranger actually enjoys what they are doing and is not acting from another form of perception as drug or alcohol addiction, monetary needs or a personal history of abuse, the under privileged or unfortunate, for whom they have no liking for, respect or understanding of who this person is, as they submit to their clients whims, fantasies or fetishes and pretend with each movement and sound that it 's an enjoyable experience.

Do these people consider the factors involved in this act upon another person or do they lack consideration or responsibility to look at ones own behaviour ?
Do they then consider that they are contributing to that persons problems or causing another to occur?

What are the lasting Psychological effects this has on the sex worker, person, in regards to self worth, respectability, Psychological emotional trauma caused by succumbing to the power of another individuals sexual desires, rough sex, fantasies and fetishes?
What are the Psychological reasons for these individuals to choose to enter into this trade? Psychological effects of a troubled childhood or life, altered perception of ones self worth through sexual abuse or other forms of abuse, addiction to drugs or alcohol, to fund their own or their children 's education / economical pressures, funding a lifestyle / society 's monetary pressures, living expenses / monetary pressures of survival or is it related to an underlining Psychological disorder / Mental illness that deprives them of a conscience or a sense of danger or respect for themselves.

Do these workers require Psychological counselling before or after the act of entering into this trade when knowing that they may suffer from the physiological effects of disease, physical abuse of rough sex, anal and bondage, and the life threatening effects of HIV, Hepatitis, Sexually Transmitted Diseases or Violence?

Is it viewed as the deprived act of ones respectability and self worth or viewed as self harm?

What are the long term effects ?

What Psychological impact or behavioural pattern will develop within the sex worker who constantly submits to their clients and performs degrading sexual acts that may conflict with their own true inner feelings? Do they feel shame, disgust or suffer guilt for performing these acts or allowing themselves to be used in this way, after the act is performed?

As a society are we choosing to ignore these facts and make it acceptable or turn a blind eye to these practices or the Psychological effects of both parties, the individuals involved or should it be abolished and addressed for it 's true nature and be deemed as unacceptable human behaviour or do we stand in silence and say nothing?

The act of Prostitution started primarily as women, the under privileged and unfortunate and has escalated to the depraved act of involving young girls, boys and children. We fight for equality but does that extend to the under privileged or unfortunate and if not, what is the true meaning of equality and what are we truly fighting for?
Then truly who is the uneducated if we choose to turn a blind eye and accept this type of behaviour into our society, lives and our homes?

Are we teaching our society that this is acceptable to be treating the under privileged or unfortunate in this way by not addressing the facts or underlining causes of this behaviour? Is this what we are passing down to our children, our future generations?
Where does the responsibility fall and on who 's shoulders?

Are we really feeding the Psychological illnesses or trauma 's of those individuals involved, both parties, by believing that " Sex Sells " and creating a part of society that is under valued, disrespected and ignoring the real underlining issues that have remained unaddressed?

I would also like to raise the concern and awareness of which I feel is a worldwide issue and refers to the viewing material on Porn sites that is projected and marketed to society in the form of suggestions of committing illegal actions and immoral behaviour, for example, to name a few :

Teachers with students

Family members conducting actions of incest

Animal sex

Older men engaging sexually with young girls and or taking their virginity

Rough / Violent / Abusive sex

Labelling women as sluts

I believe this raises the question of what impact this material may have Psychologically on the viewer, the public, which could manifest into that viewer conducting themselves in such behaviour and illegal actions.

I also feel that in regards to the legal age of 18 of people who can enter into the sex trade should be scrutinized and reviewed as being too young. As a teenager, an under developed mind that does not yet have the experience or knowledge of life experience to make mature decisions or to be responsible within their actions and are denied the right to drink or acquire a licence in some countries based upon this evaluation until the age of 21, therefore how can they make or be capable of making this decision as a mature adult.

I do feel that this is an issue within our society and is damaging to the youth, to society and is placing society in real danger, manifesting in sexual crimes and abuse being committed and the inexperienced youth being taken advantage of and being introduced to criminality in the form of alcohol abuse, drug use, violent, intimidating behaviour and crime figures which lead to Prostitution.

I feel that this issue needs to be urgently raised with governing figures and addressed seriously to be reformed, restructured which leads to the bill of decriminalizing Prostitution that opens the door to criminality and criminal figures to operate legally within this industry, to be denied and rejected to discourage this kind of practice within society and to protect society and the youth from criminal activity.

I am raising this concern, your awareness and offering my perspective as a concerned member of the public in the instance that you may have the same perspective and may be in a position or have influence to bring this issue into awareness within the public or the correct people and or governing figures which may result in action being taken.
